ENDORSEMENTS

"After interviewing multiple builders, we knew Brannen Design & Construction would be the best choice we could make in having our custom home built. Every aspect of the process was outstanding in terms of the design, construction detail, and the management of time and budgets. Jay's meticulous attention to detail and ability to see the whole picture was remarkable, and the level of trust we had in him could not be surpassed. Jay provided everything we were looking for in a builder...quality, value and pricing with such a professional manner. We are thrilled he built our home and could not have enjoyed the process more than we did!"

- Patrick and Stacy Arnold

"We live in our dream home! Brannen Design and Construction made it possible with extreme professionalism, extensive expertise, tasteful design, and honest communication. From pouring the foundation to receiving the keys to our front door, every step was explained and followed through to completion. There simply isn't a better home builder in the area."

- Jerry and Daria Roselle

ABOUT BRANNEN HOMES

Welcome home to Quality, Vision, and an Unmatched experience...Welcome to Brannen Design and Construction.

Over the years, we have become synonymous with luxury home building in northern Colorado and we take pride in building homes that stand out from the rest. By using a unique team approach and collaboration between talented staff, Brannen brings homeowners' visions to life. We will help you build a luxury home that will not only make a statement but also reflect your lifestyle. We understand that the home-building process is a very personal choice, and that you require first-class service that range from architecture to interior design. That is why Brannen Design and Construction believes in flexibility throughout the building process while guiding the client and keeping the client's interests first.

Our success lies in our philosophies to homebuilding:

- Focusing on the homeowners first
- Unlimited communication
- Homes built on time
- Within the client's budget
- Utmost attention to detail
- Keeping the process of building an enjoyable experience

We are highly selective on the communities that we choose to participate in and as such, Harmony has exceeded all of our expectations. Harmony has been meticulously planned and artfully crafted, just as a Brannen home will be.

We stand by our relaxed, open-door philosophy and would like to invite you to experience the pride we invest in every project. Whether you are ready to start the building process, or just need questions answered, we encourage you to sit down and let us explain how the building process can truly be enjoyable while being a rewarding experience for everyone.
